About

Concerto Pro and Sonata Pro are closely related to each other. In fact, the only difference between the two related fonts is in the upper-case characters. The Concerto Pro upper-cases characters are more complex, swashier than those in Sonata Pro. One is a perfect complement to the other. Both fonts contain about 1200 glyphs covering the complete Latin set for Western and Eastern Europe. Additionally, there is a large selection of alternates and ligatures to make this beautiful script design a perfect font for OTF-savvy applications.
